Convinced of intellectual superiority, these “aristocratic” bureaucracies create self-perpetuating and self-serving government structures from the ground up by determining what is and what is not politically correct language (and, of course, politically correct thinking); by establishing educational curricula for schools and colleges that “educate” the young, following the old Jesuit dictum, “give me a child until age seven, and I’ll give you the man;” by interpreting laws in thousands of rules and regulations, many never intended by congress; in other words, by removing the administration of the country further and further from the direct will of the people.

Within the ruling “aristocracy,” loyalty to the ruling class supersedes right and wrong, and even loyalty to the country is only, at best, second.

History of PC

Political Correctness started in a think tank in Germany in 1923. It was going to be called The Institute of Marxism but in order to hide its Marxist roots it became known as The Institute of Social Research. The purpose was to find a solution to the biggest problem facing the implementers of communism in Russia. Why wasn't communism spreading? Because Western Civilization was in its way with its belief in the individual and that an individual could develop valid ideas.

At the root of communism was the theory that all valid ideas come from the effect of the social group of the masses. The individual is nothing. And they believed that the only way for communism to advance was to help Western Civilization to destroy itself by undermining its foundations by chipping away at the rights of those annoying individuals. One way to do that? Change their speech and thought patterns by spreading the idea that vocalising your beliefs is disrespectful to others and must be avoided to make up for past inequities and injustices. Then use this to stifle any discussion which might show up the lack of common sense in their ideology. And call it something that sounds positive: "Political Correctness."

That is how Political Correctness came about and why it is the tool of the far left in politics. When Hitler took over Germany in 1933, the Institute moved to the USA (as most of the thinkers were Jewish).

In 1966 a think tank study that hints it was commissioned by the Department of Defense under Defense Secretary Robert McNamara called "Report from Iron Mountain" was a study to explore various ways to "stabilize society".

The image shows the entrance to an Iron Mountain facility. A white concrete structure frames the entrance, with the company logo and name 'IRON MOUNTAIN' and the tagline 'The Leader in Records & Information Management' on a sign above the doorway. The interior is a long, brightly lit hallway with a concrete floor and walls. The surrounding area is a rocky, excavated hillside with a chain-link fence in the foreground.

The major conclusion of the report was that, in the past, WAR has been the only reliable means to achieve that goal. It contends that only during times of war or the threat of war are the masses compliant enough to carry the yoke of government without complaint.

In times of peace, people become resentful of high taxes, shortages, and bureaucratic intervention. When they become disrespectful of their leaders, they become dangerous. No government has long survived without enemies and armed conflict. War, therefore, has been an indispensable condition for “stabilizing society”.

Enoch 53:2-7 And their hands commit lawless deeds, and everything the righteous work at the sinner devours. The sinners shall be destroyed in front of the face of Yahuah of spirits, and they shall be banished from off the face of His earth, and they shall perish forever and ever. For I saw all the messengers of punishment abiding there and preparing all the instruments of the adversary. And I asked the messenger of peace who went with me: “For whom are they preparing these instruments?” And he said to me: “They prepare these for the kings and the powerful of the earth, that they may with them be destroyed. After this the Righteous and Elect One shall cause the house of his congregation to appear and from then on they shall hinder no more, in the name of Yahuah of spirits. And these mountains shall not stand as solid ground before His righteousness, but the hills shall be like springs of water, and the righteous shall have rest from the oppression of sinners.

Life of Adam and Eve (49.3-50.2) by RH Charles

The prophecy is attributed to the Archangel Michael, and delivered to Seth and his brothers by Eve

On account of your transgression, Yahuah will bring upon your race the anger of his judgement, first by water, the second time by fire; by these two, will Yahuah judge the whole human race. But hearken unto me, my children. Make you then tables of stone and others of clay, and write on them, all my life and your father's (all) that you have heard and seen from us. If by water Yahuah judge our race, the tables of clay will be dissolved and the tables of stone will remain; but if by fire, the tables of stone will be broken up and the tables of clay will be baked (hard).

The manuscript composed entirely in Latin, describes apocalyptic maps, speaks of the Antichrist and the Rise of Islam, following the Judgment Day on Earth. However, the author predicted it all would occur by 1651.

According to reports from National Geographic, the 15th-century apocalypse 'map of hell' mss composed in Lübeck, Germany and is currently located in the Huntington Library in San Marino, California. The ancient manuscript begins with a prophecy map describing the state of the world around 639 until 1514. In the manuscript, the author drew a circle the Earth, and water surrounds pie wedges which are believed to represent Asia, Africa, and Europe.

The writer of the eery document warns of the rise of Islam and how it is a growing threat to the Christian world.

The apocalyptic manuscript describes in another map, the 'Sword of Islam' and how it conquers Europe making its way to the rest of the world. The ancient manuscript contains five words placed inside a circle which is meant to represent the planet; each one is labeled: 'It corrects,' 'It reforms,' 'It crushes' and 'to Rome.' A fifth sword was left blank by the author.

Old World Order Infiltrates Masons & Calls Themselves the New World Order

By the mid 1800's the Jesuits' had infiltrated and taken over their arch enemies, the Masons. The Jesuits set about with the purpose of disrupting and causing confusion in the Masons. In America Jesuit Albert Pike promptly announced that the god of the Masons was 'Lucifer' turning the Masons 180 degrees in the opposite direction from which they came.

Morals & Dogma - Pike emphasizes the god of the Freemason's is Lucifer.

"Old" New World Order Initiates Conflict To Destroy The USA - The Morrill Tax Un-Civil War

Albert Pike (1809-1891) a Jesuit of Newbury Port moved to Arkansas where he became a prominent member of the secessionist movement. He was chosen by Giuseppe Mazzini, the head of the Masons and Mafia in Italy and Europe (no doubt Mazzini was closely tied to the Pope), to head the Illuminati operations in America and moved to Charleston, South Carolina, in 1852. Brigham Young, a high-level Freemason, in 1846 at Council Bluffs, Iowa, had a private meeting with Pierre De Smet, one of the most powerful American Jesuits of the Nineteenth Century. Being the foremost Jesuit of influence among the Indian Nations, De Smet, using Confederate General and 33rd Degree Freemason Albert Pike, incited his Sioux Indians to mass-murder eight hundred White Lutherans of Minnesota (Northerners) while having procured the exemption of Jesuits from the draft during America's bloodbath, erroneously called "the Civil War."

Albert Pike made the rank of Brigadier General in the un-Civil War. Pike's reign of terror was so despicable that foreign governments intervened to put an end to his savagery.

Some background on Giuseppe Mazzini:

MAZZINI WAS A SON OF A JACOBIN WHO HAD INTIMATE TIES WITH JEWISH (ZIONIST) CIRCLES, INCLUDING AN ISRAELITE COLLABORATOR KNOWN AS HENRY MAYERS HYNDMAN, AN ENGLISH MARXIST WHO FOUNDED THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC FEDERATION AND THE NATIONAL SOCIALIST PARTY.

IN 1860 MAZZINI CREATED AN ORGANIZATION CALL THE OBLONICA, FROM THE GREEK WORD "OBELOS" -MEANING TO "SKEWER OR KNIFE". IN THIS GROUP HE CREATED ANOTHER MORE INTERNAL ONE - MAFIA -AN ACRONYM FOR:

MAZZINI AUTHORIZZA (AUTHORIZES) FURTI (THEFTS) INCENDI (FIRES) AVVELENAMENTI (POISONINGS OR ASSASSINATIONS).

Grand Master, Albert Pike

The Apprentice, Giuseppe Mazzini

A renowned conspiracy in the last hundred years is that of Albert Pike's letter to Giuseppe Mazzini. It is said that a letter in 1871 was written by Pike, predicting the need for three world wars systematically fermented to destroy religions and usher in the secular era. The first two world wars, accurately fit the description in the letter and so it is important that the prediction for world war III is closely examined. It says in the letter that the third world war should be fomented between political Zionists and the Muslim world.

The contents of the letter can be accessed on many forums and websites on the internet. The original letter however is nowhere to be found. It is said that the letter was present in the British Museum but removed at the request for Baron Rothschild.

To settle the authenticity of the letter, the route of historical verification should be taken. If the history of the letter is traced only to a time that dates after the second world war, then the theory would not hold much water and it's extremely likely that the letter has been hoaxed. Even if it predicts a third world war, one can attribute it to the conclusion of the ill feeling in the Muslim world after "World War II" because of the creation of the state of Israel.

If however, the letter can be traced back to a time before the second world war, than it indeed has significance, even more so than if its origin predates world war 1.

Chronological Analysis of World War III letter

Albert Pike (December 29, 1809 – April 2, 1891) letter to Giuseppe Mazzini (22 June 1805 – 10 March 1872) was allegedly dated 15th August, 1871.

Pike and Mazzini were contemporary as per historical record and they did have several meetings.

In the book Le diable au XIXe siècle (1894) by Gabriel Jagond-Pager a.k.a. Leo Taxil (March 21, 1854 – March 31, 1907) the first instance of the letter from Pike to Mazzini is found.

Leo Taxil was by reputation a famous Hoaxer

The letter was recorded again in the book Le Palladisme (1895) by Domenico Margiotta.

Not much is known about Domenico Margiotta. It could be another pseudonym for Leo Taxil.

In the book by Taxil and Margiotta, there is nothing of the three world war plan and nothing especially prophetic-it simply describes that Freemasonry plans to overthrow all religions.

Cardinal Caro Y Rodriguez (June 23, 1866 – December 4, 1958) in his book “Mystery of Freemasonry Unveiled” mentions this letter.

There is record of Caro y Rodriguez and he did indeed is renowned for his efforts against Freemasonry.

William Guy Carr (June 2, 1895 – October 2, 1959) cites Caro Y Rodriguez and the letter in his book Satan: Prince of this world.

As the writings of William Guy Carr do not predate the Second World War, therefore his account can be discounted. His reference was Cardinal Y Rodriguez and so the Chilean cardinal's unabridged version of the book "Mystery of Freemasonry Unveiled" holds more significance as it predates the second world war, particularly if the version of the letter (in 1925) is the same as one that is present today.

It could well be that the Cardinal read the letter that was part of book written by Leo Taxil. This book "Le diable au XIXe siècle" is enlisted in the British Museum. There is no record of the original letter in the museum and therefore the notion that Baron Rothschild got it removed should be dismissed.

One should also note that Taxil's letter is not the version that is available today and does not depict the three world wars. Therefore as compelling as it may feel and as the thought might be to pursue this further, it does not lead to any substantial finding. Nonetheless history has proven that this present era is one of "Novus Ordo Seclorum" and wars against religions are certainly brewing.

WORLD WAR 1

The total number of military and civilian casualties in World War I was more than 38 million: there were over 17 million deaths and 20 million wounded, ranking it among the deadliest conflicts in human history. The total number of deaths includes about 11 million military personnel and about 7 million civilians.

In fact, the Emperor Franz Josef himself expressed relief over the assassination because it rid him of an heir whom he deeply disliked. The Emperor commented that "God will not be mocked. With the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand and his wife on June 28th, 1914, Austria-Hungary was able to secure the promise from Germany that it would aid in a war with Serbia and possibly Russia, if Russia chose to enter the fray due to their treaty with Serbia. It should be noted here that Austria-Hungary did not really expect Russia to enter the fray as they expected this to be a very small war that would be over quickly, before Russia would be obligated to respond. Now with Germany's support if Russia did enter the fray, Austria-Hungary issued an ultimatum to Serbia with remarkably severe terms that Serbia would be sure to reject, thus giving Austria-Hungary an excuse to go launch a limited war on Serbia to reclaim territory in the Balkans.

ALGERIA

- Russia bound by their treaty with Serbia decides to come to Serbia's aid.
- Germany, with the recent treaty with Austria-Germany, declares war on Russia.
- France, bound by an existing treaty with Russia, now is at war with Germany by association. Germany then invades Belgium to have easy access to France.
- Britain, allied to France with an existing treaty, declares war against Germany. This was unexpected by Germany as they expected Britain to stay out of the war, due to the fact that the treaty with France was loosely worded and not entirely binding. However, Britain also had a 75 year old treaty with Belgium. So because of both of these treaties, they decided to declare war on Germany.
- With Britain now warring with Germany, Canada, India, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa enter the war as they were colonies of Britain.
- Japan honors an existing treaty with Britain and declares war on Germany.
- Austria-Hungary declare war on Japan for declaring war on Germany.
- The U.S. tries to stay out of the war but in 1917 decides to enter due to Germany's submarines hindering the United States' commercial shipping because the U.S. was shipping a lot of supplies to the Allies.

Bankers were also in danger of losing everything along with the fact that America had not yet joined the war, which enabled Woodrow Wilson to be elected a 2nd time – in 1916. On March 9, 1916 he sanctioned a secret agreement with England and France pledging the United States would intervene on behalf of the Allies.

Though this secret agreement was done in 1916, officially the United States declared war on the Axis powers.

The sinking of the Lusitania would be used as a reason to finally enter into WWI, but even that wasn't straight forward.

The Lusitania had been a passenger ship, but also had the ability to be converted into a warship. In May of 1913 she was brought back into dry dock and outfitted for war time capabilities. When she returned to sea, she was listed not as a passenger liner but an armed auxiliary cruiser, but she would still carry passengers.

It is said that Winston Churchill had to set a trap to get the neutral Americans into the war – so he changed the rules:

Under what was called Cruiser Rules, warships of both England and Germany gave the crews of unarmed enemy merchant ships a chance to take to the lifeboats before sinking them. In 1914 Churchill issued orders that British merchant ships must no longer obey a U-boat order to halt and be searched. If they were armed, they were to engage the enemy, if not, they were to attempt to ram the sub.

This was done to keep the U-boats submerged, having to rely increasingly on underwater attacks and running a greater risk of mistaking a neutral for British ships and drowning neutral crews thus embroiling Germany with other Great Powers.

To increase this likelihood, Churchill ordered British ships to remove their names from the hulls and when in port, to fly the flag of a neutral power, preferably that of the United States.

The Lusitania's Last Voyage:
600 tons of pyroxyline (gun cotton)
6 million rounds of ammunition
1248 cases of shrapnel shells

An unknown quantity of munitions that completely filled the holds of the lowest deck

There were 195 Americans who had booked passage on the ship

The background of the slide is an aerial photograph of a vast, turbulent ocean. The water is a deep, dark blue, and the surface is covered in a dense field of white-capped waves, suggesting a storm or a very rough sea. The perspective is from a high angle, looking down at the water's surface.

Germany had an Embassy in the United States, who became aware of what the Lusitania was carrying and they made a formal complaint to the United States government, who ignored them. The Embassy also tried to run an Ad in the US papers advising American citizens to be aware of the Atlantic being a war zone and that they traveled at their own risk.

The State Department intervened raising the specter of possible libel suits against newspaper publishers to NOT print the Ad with the exception of the Des Moines Register.

The Lusitania was sunk May 7, 1915:

Commander Joseph Kenworthy wrote: "The Lusitania was sent at considerably reduced speed into an area where a U-boat was known to be waiting and with her escorts withdrawn.

It took only 1 torpedo from the U-boat to sink the Lusitania. One of the largest ships ever built sank in 18 minutes. However there were 2 explosions, with the second explosion being the stronger explosion which literally blew the side off the cargo hold number two and started the great ship immediately to the bottom.

Was Spanish Flu (1918) Deliberate Genocide?

August 21, 2015

<http://henrymakow.com/001836.html>

The influenza pandemic of 1918-1919 infected 20% of the world's population and killed between 60 and 100 million people. This is roughly three times as many people as were killed and maimed in World War One, and is comparable to WWII losses. Yet this modern plague has slipped down the memory hole. Why? Was it a deliberate ploy by the Illuminati to finish the job WWI began?

By Henry Makow Ph.D.

In 1948 Heinrich Mueller, the former head of the Gestapo, told his CIA Interrogator that the influenza pandemic of 1918-19, the most devastating plague in human history, was man-made. Mueller said the flu started as a US army bacteriological warfare experiment that somehow infected US army ranks at Camp Riley KS in March 1918, and spread around the world. He says that it "got out of control" but we cannot discount the horrible possibility that the "Spanish Flu" was a deliberate elite depopulation measure, and that it could be used again. Researchers have found connections between it and the recurring "Bird Flu."

It was called the Spanish Flu because the first human case was identified there. Understandably there was panic worldwide, as influenza was not discovered until 1933, so the mystery was rather frightening.

According to Wikipedia: "In the U.S., about 28% of the population suffered, and 500,000 to 675,000 died. In Britain 200,000 died; in France more than 400,000. Entire villages perished in Alaska and southern Africa. In Australia an estimated 10,000 people died and in the Fiji Islands, 14% of the population died during only two weeks, and in Western Samoa 22%. An estimated 17 million died in India, about 5% of India's population at the time. In the Indian Army, almost 22% of troops who caught the disease died of it." "Indeed, symptoms in 1918 were so unusual that initially influenza was misdiagnosed as dengue, cholera, or typhoid.

One observer wrote, "One of the most striking of the complications was hemorrhage from mucous membranes, especially from the nose, stomach, and intestine. Bleeding from the ears and petechial hemorrhages in the skin also occurred.

Another unusual feature of this pandemic was that it mostly killed young adults, with 99% of pandemic influenza deaths occurring in people under 65 and more than half in young adults 20 to 40 years old. This is unusual since influenza is normally most deadly to the very young (under age 2) and the very old (over age 70). "

At a 1944 Nazi bacteriological warfare conference in Berlin, General Walter Schreiber, Chief of the Medical Corps of the German Army told Mueller that he had spent two months in the US in 1927 conferring with his counterparts. They told him that the "so-called double blow virus" (i.e. Spanish Flu) was developed and used during the 1914 war.

"But," according to Mueller, "it got out of control and instead of killing the Germans who had surrendered by then, it turned back on you, and nearly everybody else." (Gestapo Chief: The 1948 CIA Interrogation of Heinrich Mueller Vol. 2 by Gregory Douglas, p. 106)

Mueller: "I am not a doctor, you understand, but the 'double-blow' referred to a virus, or actually a pair of them that worked like a prize fighter. The first blow attacked the immune system and made the victim susceptible, fatally so, to the second blow which was a form of pneumonia...[Schreiber told me] a British scientist actually developed it...Now you see why such things are insanity. These things can alter themselves and what starts out as a limited thing can change into something really terrible."

The "Spanish flu", 1918–1919. First identified early in March 1918 in US troops training at Camp Funston, Kansas. By October 1918, it had spread to become a worldwide pandemic on all continents, and eventually infected about one-third of the world's population (or 500 million persons). Unusually deadly and virulent, it ended nearly as quickly as it began, vanishing completely within 18 months. In six months, some 50 million were dead; some estimates put the total of those killed worldwide at over twice that number.

War helps the spread:

<http://my.christchurchcitylibraries.com/1918-influenza-pandemic/>

From the battlefields, the scourge spread throughout the world. The Great War was not the cause but a complicating factor in the advance of the plague. Soldiers weakened by mustard gas, shell-shock, injury and illness were being sent to field hospitals or their homes. This population was susceptible to and could easily spread influenza.

The Armistice was signed at a time when the illness was most rife, and excited civilians revelled in what became dance-of-death celebrations.

Each country blamed the illness on other nations but, eventually, the name 'Spanish flu' was adopted by all. The reason for the name can be readily traced. Nations at war practised censorship, but Spain, a neutral country, did not. It reported the epidemic in detail, especially when, in May, King Alfonso XIII became ill. Thus was the myth born that the plague originated in Spain.

Treaty of Versailles, peace document signed at the end of World War I by the Allied and Associated Powers and by Germany in the Hall of Mirrors in the Palace of Versailles, France, on June 28, 1919; it took force on January 10, 1920.

The treaty was drafted during the Paris Peace Conference in the spring of 1919, which was dominated by the national leaders known as the “Big Four,” David Lloyd George of Britain, Georges Clemenceau of France, Woodrow Wilson of the United States, and Vittorio Orlando of Italy. The first three in particular made the important decisions. None of the defeated nations had any say in shaping the treaty, and even the associated Allied powers played only a minor role.

I wonder if there is a correlation between the influenza pandemic and the timing of this treaty?

Pike's Letter to Mazzini:

"The First World War must be brought about in order to permit the Illuminati to overthrow the power of the Czars in Russia and of making that country a fortress of atheistic Communism. The divergences caused by the "agentur" (agents) of the Illuminati between the British and Germanic Empires will be used to foment this war. At the end of the war, Communism will be built and used in order to destroy the other governments and in order to weaken the religions."

World War II was the deadliest military conflict in history in absolute terms of total dead. Over 60 million people were killed, which was about 3% of the 1940 world population (est. 2.3 billion).

What Really Caused World War 2?

<http://www.threeworldwars.com/world-war-2/ww2.htm>

The date of September 1, 1939, when Germany invaded Poland, is remembered as the date the war started. But little is remembered about the date Russia also moved into Poland, on September 16, 1939. The nation of Poland was now divided between these two war-time allies.

It is interesting to notice what the responses of the major allied nations were to these two dates. When Germany entered the western portion of Poland, Britain and France declared war on Germany. But when Russia moved into eastern Poland, there was no war declaration by either nation.

The Soviets caused one of the tragic events of history after they occupied their portion of Poland.

They captured approximately 10,000 Polish officers and brutally murdered them, most of them meeting their death in Katyn Forest near the Russian town of Smolensk.

The traditional story about their deaths was that the officers had been killed by the German army, but now the evidence is clear that the Russians committed this crime. The other victims were taken aboard a barge which was towed out to sea and then sunk.

As the war in Europe continued, America's leaders were attempting to get America involved, even though the American people didn't want to become part of it. Roosevelt, the presidential candidate, was promising the American people that the Roosevelt administration would remain neutral should he be re-elected. Others knew better. One, for instance, was General Hugh Johnson, who said: "I know of no well informed Washington observer who isn't convinced that, if Mr. Roosevelt is elected (in 1940), he will drag us into war at the first opportunity, and that, if none presents itself, he will make one." (Note: this is just like what happened during WWI – Wilson said we wouldn't be drawn into the war, and he was re-elected)

Roosevelt had two opportunities to involve America in World War II: Japan was at war with China, and Germany was at war with Great Britain, France and other countries. Both war zones presented plenty of opportunities to involve the American government in the war, and Roosevelt was quick to seize upon the opportunities presented.

His first opportunity came from the war in the Pacific. It was in August, 1940, that the United States broke the Japanese "purple" war-time code. This gave the American government the ability to read and understand all of their recoverable war-time messages. Machines were manufactured to de-code Japan's messages, and they were sent all over the world, but none was sent to Pearl Harbor.

THE ARIZONA

He had made secret commitments to Winston Churchill and the English government to become involved in the war against Germany and he knew that the only way he could fulfill his secret commitments to Churchill to get us into the war, without openly dishonoring his pledges to the American people to keep us out, was by provoking Germany or Japan to attack.

Roosevelt moved towards the Pacific theater first, knowing that, if he could provoke Japan to attack America first, America would automatically be at war with Germany as well. He also knew that, should Germany attack America, Japan would have to declare war on America. So Roosevelt attempted to get either nation to attack the United States first. Japan was to get the first opportunity.

The American Ambassador to Tokyo, Joseph C. Grew, was one of the first to officially discover that Pearl Harbor was the intended target of the Japanese attack, as he corresponded with President Roosevelt's State Department on January 27, 1941: "The Peruvian minister has informed a member of my staff that he had heard from many sources, including a Japanese source, that, in the event of trouble breaking out between the United States and Japan, the Japanese intended to make a surprise attack against Pearl Harbor...." <sup>56</sup>

President Roosevelt wasn't listening either to the charges of Congressman Martin Dies, Chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. By August of 1941, the Dies committee had assembled a large amount of evidence which more than confirmed the suspicions which we had entertained on the basis of surface appearances: It was clear that the Japanese were preparing to invade Pearl Harbor and that they were in possession of vital military information.

Roosevelt now knew that Japan planned on attacking the United States, but still he did nothing about warning the American forces at Pearl Harbor.

And on December 7, 1941, Japan launched a "surprise attack."

The American forces were not prepared for the attack. And the attacking Japanese forces had orders from Japan to return to Japan should they detect any evidence that the Americans had been alerted.

As their air force attacked Pearl Harbor, they reported that the American planes were having difficulty in getting off the ground.

This was because the American planes had been grouped in circles, with their propellers all facing inward as the result of an order by President Roosevelt. It was reported that Roosevelt had ordered the planes grouped in this fashion because he feared "acts of sabotage" against the planes and he was acting to protect them.

Since airplanes do not have a "reverse gear" the grouping of the planes in this manner made it extremely difficult for them to rapidly get out of the circle and into the air. One critic of the circling of these airplanes, Harry Elmer Barnes, has written: "Bunching the planes in a circle, wing to wing, would [make them] helpless in the event of a surprise air attack."

Another strange circumstance was the make-up of the fleet anchored at Pearl Harbor at the time of the attack. The Pacific Fleet consisted of nine battleships and three aircraft carriers along with a host of smaller ships.

During the attack, the Japanese sank or seriously damaged eight battleships but no aircraft carriers.

The American government had reasoned that the aircraft carriers would have an extremely important role to play in the type of war they felt would be waged in the Pacific theater. So all of the aircraft carriers were moved out of Pearl Harbor and all of the less valuable battleships were left behind. The battleships were expendable because most of them had been constructed prior to or during World War I, which meant that they were old and obsolete.

An 800kg gray-green bomb of the type which destroyed the USS Arizona.

So on December 8, 1941, President Roosevelt asked the Congress to declare war on Japan, stating that December 7, 1941 would go down in history as a "day of infamy."

So when Roosevelt addressed the nation through his speech in Congress, he lied when he said: "We don't like it — and we didn't want to get in it — but we are in it and we're going to fight it with everything we've got."

Roosevelt's activities in the planning of Pearl Harbor had a costly price. The final toll was 2,341 U.S. servicemen dead and 1,143 wounded; eighteen ships including the eight battleships were sunk or heavily damaged; more than two hundred Army Air Corps and Navy planes were destroyed or unusable; and sixty-eight civilians were killed.

Admiral Robert Theobald, the Commander of all destroyers at Pearl Harbor, wrote a book entitled The Final Secret of Pearl Harbor, in which he detailed his conclusions about the "surprise attack." He wrote:

President Roosevelt forced Japan to war and enticed them to initiate hostilities by holding the Pacific fleet in Hawaiian waters as an invitation to that attack;

The plans to use Pearl Harbor as the bait started in June, 1940;

War with Japan meant war with Germany; and

Roosevelt, Marshall and Stark knew about Pearl Harbor 21 hours before the attack.

German forces surrendered in Berlin, Germany, on May 8, 1945, and Japanese forces surrendered on the deck of the USS Missouri in Tokyo Bay on Sept. 2, 1945. It was two treaties, not just one, that ended hostilities in World War II

According to the Encyclopedia Britannica, the German surrender (known as the German Instrument of Surrender) was initially signed on May 7, 1945 in Reims, Germany, but the Soviet forces disputed the authority of the signatories and requested a re-signing in Berlin on May 8. The Japanese surrender is known both as the Japanese Instrument of Surrender and the Potsdam Declaration.

What did the Elites get out of WW2

- 1. The enlargement of their secure base in Russia into a world power*
- 2. Complete control over Palestine by the Rothschild's*
- 3. Airpower, including long range missiles which led to satellites, jets, secret flying saucers, and powerful submarines; all items that individuals could not produce. Those in control of production would therefore control all air and sea ways of the earth*
- 4. The cold war and an era of terror to convince the people of the need for satan's One World Order*
- 5. The United Nations*
- 6. Better mind control and better social engineering*

Pike's Letter to Mazzini:

"The Second World War must be fomented by taking advantage of the differences between the Fascists and the political Zionists. This war must be brought about so that Nazism is destroyed and that the political Zionism be strong enough to institute a sovereign state of Israel in Palestine. During the Second World War, International Communism must become strong enough in order to balance Christendom, which would be then restrained and held in check until the time when we would need it for the final social cataclysm."

Isa 13:11 And I will impose a penalty and inflict punishment on the world for its evil and wickedness causing misery and suffering and the wicked and unrighteous transgressors for their iniquity, depravity, perversity, guilt and sin. And I will impose and bring to an end the pride, loftiness, and arrogance of the inflated and presumptuous, and I will humble and humiliate the haughtiness, unreasonable and inordinate self-esteem of the merciless and violent tyrants
