Studies with Scripture explaining the Covenant with Yahuah - what He expects as well as what He offers us as His children. There are chronological studies showing when they first showed up in Scripture and with amplification of Scripture one will find a whole new look for the Father of the Universe.

Our Primary scripture source will be the AENT which we have used over the years. It will be much more accurate than the Greek and we will consult Blue Letter Bible on-line for confirmation. As always, we will restore Yahuah's and Yahusha's proper names in the texts. We will also be looking at the Crawford-Greg Glaser, the Aramaic NT interlinear by Bauscher, George Lama's and J.W. Etheridge's translation of the Peshitta and John Parkhurst's Hebrew To English Lexicon without points and Bayithamachiyach color coded translations to top it off.

We also have a gem from the 17th century- a Hebrew manuscript of Revelation! Not the whole book but it is in the British Library under Sloane MS 237.

This episode of Hebrew Voices is one of the most exciting things I have ever discovered: A Hebrew Manuscript of the Book of Revelation! This 17th century manuscript in the British Library contains the name Yehovah with full vowels and refers to "Yehoshua Mashiach". Torah-loving Methodist pastor AJ Bernard and the mysterious "T-Bone" joined me for a lively discussion of the Hebrew text and English translation. We unpacked topics such as the "Aleph Tav", the Jewish understanding of the Messiah coming on the clouds, and the meaning of Yehovah's holy Name.

AS A REMINDER.....

The "Work In Progress Narrative", while also drawn from Scripture and other sources most of the time does not affect our eternal destination, and does have more speculation due to pieces still missing. Thus we reason what options can be plausible. If at any time this takes us into a space that contradicts Scripture, or cannot connect the truths on either side, it can no longer be an option. Think of the WIPN as a plausible bridge from one solid truth to another but a land mass of truth is missing or unclear underneath.

In part 1J we are still in the corn field with Chapter 1. After being introduced to Yahusha in part 1G, we are going back to spot check certain words in the 8 verses we just covered. In Part 1H is the full translations for all the texts we are looking at. We did not repost them in this study, so if you want to see the actual translation see 1H. This verse led us to some shocking finds and Yah-Mazing treasures for us.

So now I had to investigate what the heck was going on! It took several weeks to try and figure out what the Hebrew words were and the best way to show the comparison.

I took each of the Hebrew words that I had from our translations and tried to match them to the Crawford. YIKES- as you can see some have added words and some omitted words and some not translated.

ARGGGGG! IT'S THE GRAMMAR
MONSTER..... YOU

SPELL..

LET'S EXPLORE.....

V. As a N. fem. יד plur. ידיים.

1. The hand of man, so called from its being naturally capable of being protended or thrust forth from the body; (comp. under זרע II.) so in Heb. it is very frequently joined with שלח to put or thrust forth, as Gen. iii. 22. viii. 9, & al. freq. And since the hand of man is the † chief organ or instrument of his power and operations, hence the Heb. יד is used in a very extensive manner, for power, agency, ability, means, instrumentality, dominion, possession, assistance, custody, and the like. See Exod. iv. 21. Prov. xviii. 21. Jud. i. 35. Lev. v. 7. xxvii. 8. Exod. ix. 35. xxxv. 29. Gen. ix. 2. Exod. iii. 8. 1 Sam. ix. 8. 2 Sam. xiv. 19. 1 K. x. 29. Esth. ii. 3.

Hence we see the propriety of stretching forth or lifting up the hands towards heaven in prayer, which was practised both by believers (see Job xi. 13. 1 K. viii. 22. 2 Chron. vi. 12, 13. Ps. lxiii. 4. Isa. i. 15.) and by the † heathen. What was this but emblematically acknowledging the power, and imploring the assistance of their respective Gods? Comp. Psal. xlv. 21, 22. lxviii. 32. xxviii. 2. See Harmer's Observations, vol. iii. p. 350.

Hence also we may account for that very ancient ceremony of lifting up the hand in swearing. See Gen. xiv. 22, and comp. Dan. xii. 7. In man this was confessing and invoking the power of the Deity to punish in cases of perjury; in God, it was appealing to or swear-

3. Since the hands are placed on each side of the body, hence יד signifies, a side, border, extremity, as hand sometimes does in English. See Exod. ii. 5. 1 Sam. iv. 13, 18. Deut. xxiii. 12 or 13. Ezek. xlvi. 1. Hence an extensive country is said to be רחבת ידיים wide of hands, i. e. wide on all hands or sides, as we say. Gen. xxxiv. 21. Jud. xviii. 10.

4. יד is used for a trophy or monument of victory, probably because made in the shape of a large hand (the emblem of power) erected on a pillar. Thus Saul, after smiting the Amalekites, in the pride of his heart, מציב לו יד erected to, or for, himself (not for Jehovah) a hand, 1 Sam. xv. 12, where LXX χυψα a hand; and David smote Hadadezer king of Zobah, when he was going ידו להציב to erect his hand or trophy by the river Euphrates, 2 Sam. viii. 3. 1 Chron. xviii. 3. And this appears to be the most ancient use of these memorial hands; whence Absalom seems to have taken the hint of erecting one merely to keep his name in remembrance. 2 Sam. xviii. 18; where observe that this monument is expressly called not only יד a hand, but מצבה a pillar, which, together with the use of the verb הציב in the above texts, shows that the hand was wont to be put on a pillar. ## AMPLIFIED

As a monument of victory through power, ability and dominion. Then his feet walking, to explore, teach and treading upon that which must be cleansed of dirt are compared to proverbs about hardened tempered brass and having been polished smooth after being made exceedingly vile and despicable- accursed- and treated as insignificant.

Because after being made happy and called blessed, leads the straight walk moving forward. Being successful and making progress generations to generations because of and account of the scorching blaze of the furnace-that represents the human suffering, punishment, and discipline.

And his voice calling out so loud it is like the sound sinks into the depth of the sea.

15. and his feet were like fine brass, flaming in a furnace: and his voice, like the sound of many waters. AENT

Through the amplification we got a bit more of the flavor of why Yahuchannon (John) described what Yahusha looked like based upon what he went through.

Even though the google translations were shocking- parts of it led to a deeper meaning than I would have ever thought.

Everything he went through was for Yahuah to be reunited with us. Everything we go through is to be reunited with Yahuah and Yahusha.
